"VESTAVIA GOES TO COLLEGE"

"Vestavia Goes to College," an annual event sponsored by Shelton State Community College as part of its Adopt A School Program with Vestavia Elementary, was held Friday, April 17, on the college's Fifteenth Street Campus.

Over 200 fifth and sixth grade students from Vestavia Elementary participated. The students selected four college courses they wanted to attend during the morning. A graduation and finale was held during the closing of the morning's activities.

Some of the courses offered during the morning included: Music; Cemistry; English; Spanish; Psychology; Theater; Typing; Diesel Mechanics; Truck Driving; Cabinetmaking/woodworking; Nursing; Automotive Mechanics; Computerized Numerical Control; Air Conditioning and Refrigeration; Computer Data Processing; Drafting; Cosmetology; Machine Tool Technology; and Industrial Electronics Technology.

CONGRATULATIONS TO LIZ SMELLEY

Shelton's own Liz Smelley has been named Miss Senior Tuscaloosa for 1992. Liz competed against six other contestants for the title. For her talent, Liz sang God on the Mountain. This summer she will travel to Birmingham to compete for Ms. Senior Alabama. An employee of the Alabama Fire College, she manages the Fire College bookstore and is a member of the college's softball team.

TUSCALOOSA FLUTE CHOIR TO PERFORM

The Tuscaloosa Flute Choir Senior Division will perform at Shelton State Community College on Monday, April 27, at 1 p.m. in the music room on the Skyland Boulevard Campus. The concert will be held as part of the college's Monday Concert Series.

The group will perform works ranging in style from the Baroque period to current popular tunes. Members of the senior high ensemble are: Ashley Parker; Joni Fisher; Jennifer Jones; Dr. Joan Vold, director; Libby McLean; Tracy Walker; Cindy Fisher; and Kyle Hicks.

The program is free and open to the public.

JOINT VOICE RECITAL TO BE HELD AT SHELTON

Shelton State soprano Lori Brooks and tenor Kenyon Hamner will present a joint voice recital on Sunday, April 26, 3:00 p.m. on the Skyland Campus of Shelton State Community College.

The recital will open with arias and a duet from Don Giovanni by Mozart. Ms. Brooks will sing an aria from Otello by Verdi, as well as art songs by Brahms and Faure, and sacred songs by Handel, Gounod, and Creston. Mr. Hamner will sing art songs by Legrenzi, Schumann, and Duparc in addition to three of the Songs of Travel by Vaughn Williams.

Both students are attending Shelton State on Performing Arts scholarships. They are members of the Shelton Singers, the "Bach to Rock" troupe, and the musical theatre cast. Ms. Brooks is a former recipient of a music scholarship to the University of Alabama. She plans on pursuing a degree in music education at the University of Montevallo. Mr. Hamner has received a music scholarship to Samford University, were he plans to study church music. Lori Brooks and Kenyon Hamner are students of Glinda Blackshear. Their recital will be accompanied by Becki Stallsmith on piano.

TWO ORGANIZATIONS ARE CONSIDERING OFFERING THEATRE CLASSES

How many adults, especially senior citizens, would be interested in taking theatre classes next fall? This question is currently being asked by Shelton State Community College and Theatre Tuscaloosa.

The two organizations are considering offering theatre classes, designed specifically for adult students, next fall as a cooperative effort, if there is enough interest in the program.

Some of the courses that might possibly be taught include: Introductory Level Acting; Readers Theatre; Play Appreciation; Production Techniques; New Script Development; and Senior Theatre Company.

Anyone who is interested in learning more about the program should contact Linda Grote at Shelton State Community College, 391-2262, or Don Speed at Stage Center, 345-3959.

SHELTON STATE LADY BUCCANEERS IN TOURNAMENT

The Shelton State Lady Buccaneers will play in the AJCCC State Tournament April 23, 24, and 25th.
Good Luck Girls!

SHELTON'S MEN TO PLAY HERE FOR NEXT THREE GAMES

The Shelton State men's baseball team will play Southern Union Junior College in a conference game today at 1 p.m. at their home field at the V. A. Hospital. On April 23, they will play Enterprise, and on April 25th, they will play Central Alabama Community College in other conference games.
